MEET OUR HERO

Arthritis doesn't discriminate -- it affects one in three people, including men, women, teens and even children. That is right... children get Arthritis too. There is 300,000 children in the US with this disease.

Nadia is a happy 9 year old girl that enjoys life at its fullest. She was diagnosed with Systemic Juvenile Rheumatoid Arthritis at the young age of 3.

As parents, you might be able to relate, that finding what is best for your children is no easy task and one that we will never give up on. Fortunately we have been very lucky in finding resources and organizations that help families thru this disease not only from a medical perspective but also as support groups. With their help we have been able to offer Nadia a life that is no different from your children. A few years ago she was not even able to hang from a monkey bar because her joints were just too painful, today; she is even attending gymnastics, piano and art classes.

Organizations like the Arthritis Foundation help families understand more about their children's disease.

I am reaching out to you for your support to increase awareness of the disease and to hopefully raise funds that will be allocated towards more research to be able to offer people with Arthritis a better lifestyle.

Together, we can make a difference. ---Lorena (mom)
