Ask the Geriatrician

Care at Life's End

Jerald Winakur, MD, CMD, FACP, an author and geriatrician in his 34th year of medical practice, will share the political and regulatory changes he has weathered during his career and how they have affected the field of medicine—unfortunately, not always for the betterment of patient care.

Using the lens of narrative medicine, Dr. Winakur shares his experiences from a dual perspective: both as a health care professional and as the son of an 86 year old man suffering from dementia. It's a personal and professional story that will stimulate your thinking, make you laugh and touch your heart.
