Thomas Weiss, M.D.
Geriatric Psychiatrist

Geriatricians are doctors with specific training in the care of adults ages 65 plus. Very few people have the opportunity to speak with a geriatrician since there is a shortage of these specialists in the United States.

To address this issue, mmLearn.org is bringing the geriatrician directly to you! During each monthly webcast, a geriatrician speaks on a topic relevant to older adults and their caregivers. Viewers can watch the webcast live and submit their questions online.
